

Thursday 4 July 2019

New IMAS exhibition highlights growing use of drones in science

A new exhibition at the IMAS waterfront building in Hobart is highlighting the increasing use of drones in science, particularly for Antarctic and marine research.

Open to the public 9am-5pm Monday to Friday until late-September, the exhibition explores the rapid growth in the

